November 3, 2011

Dear Student:

Rhodes State College would like to bring you some really exciting news. In case you have not heard, we will be converting from the quarter system to semesters starting Fall 2012. This change aligns the College with other Ohio colleges and universities. We would encourage you to visit our Semester Conversion website at www.RhodesState.edu/semesters for more information about the benefits of converting to semesters and to read the Rhodes State College "Pledge to Students."

During this conversion period, it is very important that you maintain contact with your academic advisor so she or he can assist you with your educational planning. If you are unaware who your academic advisor is, their name and phone number can be found by clicking the Academic Advisor list located on the Quarter to Semester website. Over the coming months the College will provide you with a variety of opportunities to receive academic advisement and learn about semester conversion. Upcoming opportunities include:

- Quarter-to-Semester (Q2S) Information Sessions in selected classes or sponsored by Rhodes State programs. If your program or area of study is hosting a general information session you will receive a communication regarding dates, times, and locations via U. S. mail and through your Rhodes State email.
- Individual Appointments with your academic advisor which can be scheduled by calling their office phone.
- Group Advising Sessions will begin Winter Quarter 2011. Dates and times will be communicated to you by U. S. mail and through your Rhodes State email.

Our goal is to assist you through a successful conversion process so you can achieve your educational goals. Please feel free to contact your academic advisor at any time if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Academic Advisor