

Rhodes State College Campus Safety & Security Information

Personal Responsibility

Members of the Rhodes State faculty, staff, students and visitors are encouraged to be aware of their surroundings and be responsible for their personal safety. Although we try to ensure the safety of the campus population by keeping the grounds well lit and patrolled, crime can occur.

We publish crime statistics so that students, faculty, staff and our visitors will be aware of the potential for crime. We subscribe to the philosophy that publicizing crime and campus safety information will only help make the campus safer.

Reporting Crime

The campus encourages prompt, accurate reporting of crimes or suspicious incidents. Any phone on campus may be used. NO COINS REQUIRED--JUST DIAL 8499. All pay phones are equipped to reach the county-wide 9-1-1 emergency system which connects you to all law enforcement agencies, emergency medical services and fire departments.

Crime Prevention

Safety is a concern everywhere in society, and Rhodes State is no exception. There are many ways to promote security and avoid unsafe situations. An understanding of basic safety principles, a little caution and lots of common sense are your best protection. Rhodes State is committed to providing a safe environment for students, faculty, staff and visitors. Trees and shrubs are well maintained and trimmed back away from buildings and walkways. The parking lots and sidewalks are well lit for your comfort.

Crime prevention and awareness pamphlets and a variety of informational pamphlets ranging from date rape, personal safety, wellness and educational programs are available from the Student Activities Office, Galvin Hall, Room 066 and Student Affairs, Public Service Building, Room 148. The Security Office works closely with Student Activities concerning matters of general safety. For more information on campus safety, wellness and other programs available, contact Student Activities, Galvin Hall, Room 066, (419) 995-8415 or the Security Office, Tech Lab, Room 140B, (419) 995-8078.

Notice to Campus Community

On July 1, 1997, a law went into effect concerning Sex Offender Registration and Notification. Under that law, convicted sex offenders must register for a period of time with their local county sheriffs. Sex offenders are classified as 1) sexually oriented offenders, 2) habitual sex offenders, and 3) sexual predators. The local Sheriff's office is required to notify various entities on the Rhodes State College and OSU-Lima Campus when a sexual predator or a habitual sex offender, who the court determines is subject to community notification, moves into a specific geographical location. The Safety/Security Department maintains a binder of currently registered sex offenders living in the immediate area. Contact the Allen County Sheriff's office directly at (419) 227-3535 for more information. Or go to the Security website at www.RhodesState.edu/Security.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention

Rhodes State prohibits the illegal use, production, manufacture, sale, distribution and/or possession of alcohol, drugs or controlled substances on campus. In addition, the misuse of substances which present physical or psychological hazards to individuals is prohibited. Penalties for violations of these regulations are set forth in the Code of Student Conduct found on the Rhodes State website including specific details concerning sanctions. Copies are available through the Student Affairs Office located in the Public Service Building Room 148.
